Mr. Peay has over 15 years of teaching experience at both the high school and college level. The broad range and variety of subjects Mr. Peay has taught over his career are a reflection of his own intellectual curiosity and diversity of interests: literature and creative writing, philosophy, critical thinking, cultural and media studies, anthropology, and postmodern theory. His latest pursuit - mostly likely quixotic - involves unlocking the mysteries of the teenage brain.

Mr. Peay has been a philosophy instructor and department head at the North Carolina Governor's School for nearly 20 years. He earned a Bachelor's Degree in English and Political Science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and a Master's of Fine Arts in Creative Writing at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.
